Welcome to Chrysalis House

We would like to welcome you to our program. It is our vision to ensure that your time spent with us is a comfortable and fruitful journey. Our approach to healing incorporates the body, mind, spirit, and heart.

Our clinical team is comprised of a diversely talented group of therapists and counselors. Our approach is to assess clients based on their individual needs and to assign them the most appropriate treatment team. We treat each situation differently and make certain to address all aspects of a client's particular situation.

You will be an important part of the treatment team. Your participation begins with the orientation and assessment process, and carries on through the treatment planning process. Then you will set goals for your treatment and help evaluate your progress. Next, through the transition process to a less intensive form of treatment, and/or the discharge process, the plan for your future will be developed to help ensure that you succeed in staying clean and sober.

You will also have the opportunity to provide feedback or input about the services we provide to you. This can be done through the treatment planning and review process that has been described, as well as through our satisfaction survey process that we will invite you to complete.

Our Mission

The mission of Chrysalis House Inc. is to provide comprehensive recovery services that empower women to build a better life for themselves and their children.

About Chrysalis House

Since 1986, Chrysalis House has provided treatment for women with addictions and their children. Since our founding over 30 years ago, we have helped thousands of women acquire the tools and skills that empower them to counter their disease and rebuild their lives.

Chrysalis House provides a safe, sober, and structured environment where women receive counseling, life skills training, parenting skills education, case management, and recreational activities. Our focus is to help women build a strong foundation in recovery, become better mothers, and learn to be financially stable.

One exceptional feature of Chrysalis House programs is that women may bring their children with them. Our model strives to help clients re-shape their lives in healthy and meaningful ways and create a brighter future for themselves and their children.

What to Expect

When you first enter the program, you will be given a tour of the facilities so you will be familiar with the locations of staff offices, restrooms, your bedroom and bathroom, emergency exits, first aid, fire alarms, fire extinguishers etc. You will meet with staff to begin the assessment process, which includes a psychosocial assessment, a psychiatric and nursing assessment, and other assessments if necessary. We want to get the full picture of you and your needs so that we can develop an effective plan of treatment that will address those needs and improve the likelihood that you will succeed. You will be expected to participate in planning, and reviewing your treatment. This includes participating in team meetings as needed and collaborating in the development of your treatment goals.

You will attend groups, individual sessions, and have assignments to complete. These elements are important components of your plan and you will be expected to fully participate and follow through with each one.

Transition and Discharge

When you have met certain goals, you will possibly be ready to transition to a less intensive level of treatment. In the same way, if you have difficulty with your current level of treatment, it may be recommended that you transition to a more intensive level of treatment.

When you near the point where you have achieved your goals or when it appears that you have achieved maximum benefit from treatment at Chrysalis House you will participate in the discharge planning process with your treatment team.

Discharge criteria are listed below:

Any of the following criteria is sufficient for discharge.

Your documented treatment plan goals and objectives have been substantially met or a continuing care plan can be developed to safely meet your needs at a lower level of care.

If you are unable to remain substance free at this level of care, you may be transitioned or discharged to a higher level of care.

You are not participating in treatment or you are not following program rules and regulations. The non-participation is of such a degree that treatment at this level of care is rendered ineffective or unsafe, despite multiple documented attempts to address nonparticipation issues. This is considered a non-compliant discharge.

You are not making progress toward treatment goals, and there is no reasonable expectation of progress at this level of care, despite treatment plan changes.

Your medical needs are more than the program can manage, you will be given resources about programs that can better meet your medical needs. This is considered a medical discharge.

A Few Other Things You Need To Know

If you or we think you are at risk to harm yourself or someone else, we will take steps to see that no one is harmed. This may include a treatment team meeting to discuss with you the best approach to protect you and others, completing a safety plan, prescribing medications that could help stabilize you or referral to a hospital or local crisis center.

If you have legally required appointments, sanctions, or court appearances, you are expected to let the staff know this information. It is your responsibility to make certain that you meet any legal requirements placed upon you by authorities.

Chrysalis House does not utilize restrictions in the form of personal seclusion or personal restraints under any circumstance.

In some instances, we are required to report or follow up with authorities if your treatment is mandated (ordered by a judge or other legal authority) regardless of whether or not your treatment is successful.

You have some basic privileges as you begin treatment, and these privileges expand as you progress. Under certain circumstances, mostly related to failure to participate in treatment, or failure to follow program rules, these privileges may be suspended. If this occurs, you will be given the opportunity to meet with your treatment team, and you will be given information about how you can regain those privileges. The Program Rules are identified later in this Handbook.

Motivational incentives are used to encourage participation and reward progress. These usually come in the form of privileges or passes.

If for any reason we cannot provide the services you need, we will make sure you are referred to an appropriate alternative provider.

Client Responsibilities

Confidentiality

- No information about another resident, staff member, or Chrysalis House program is to be discussed outside the program.
- While you are a resident of Chrysalis House, your business is our business! Know that we work as a treatment team for the benefit of your treatment, and that information shared with one staff member may be shared with other staff if deemed appropriate. The staff of Chrysalis House is required to observe confidentiality laws.
- You may not share any information about any other client with anyone outside of the Chrysalis House (family members, boyfriends, husbands, people in the program, outside clinics, etc...). This includes involvement in the program, urine testing, levels, personal information etc.
- You should not gossip about other clients or staff.

- Board members are not defined by law as staff members. You may not share other residents' information with Chrysalis House Board Members.
- Remember that the Chrysalis House is a small facility. Names are not the only way that residents can be identified. The goal is to provide an anonymous program for all residents.
- Be aware of the accidental ways that you can break confidentiality of another resident. Mentioning to someone "in the rooms" that a particular client was asked to leave the program, etc., is a violation of confidentiality. Sharing information with staff members out of concern for another resident is not a breach of confidentiality.
- The confidentiality of alcohol and drug patient records maintained by this program are protected by federal law and regulations.
- Violations of federal law and regulations are a crime. Suspected violations may be reported to the appropriate authorities in accordance with federal regulations.

Breaching confidentiality in a willful, malicious or repeated manner can and will be grounds for dismissal.

Exceptions to Confidentiality

Your confidentiality at Chrysalis House is protected but it is not absolute. There are some exceptions under the law when we are required to share information about you. While this is not a complete list, some of the most common exceptions to confidentiality are the following:

Imminent Harm to Self

If a staff member has reason to believe that you are in danger of physically harming yourself, the staff member may have to contact a family member or another person who may be able to keep you safe, or may have to make an involuntary referral to a hospital or local crisis system.

Imminent Harm to Others

If a staff member has reason to believe that you are seriously threatening physical violence against another person, or if you have a history of physically violent behavior, and if the staff member believes that you are an actual threat to the safety of another person, staff may be required to take some action (such as contacting the police, notifying the other person, seeking involuntary hospitalization, or some combination of these actions) to ensure that the other person is protected.

Child Abuse or Elder Abuse

If you report anything about a child under the age of 18 being abused or neglected, or a vulnerable adult being abused or neglected, present or past, we are required to make a report to Child Protective Services or Adult Protective Services.

Should any of these exceptions occur, we will release only the necessary information under the circumstances or as needed to comply with the law.

Requirement to Report Physical and Sexual Abuse or Neglect

You are advised that Maryland law requires Chrysalis House staff to notify the appropriate authorities of any report or suspicion of sexual or physical abuse of a child. This includes both current and recent child abuse or neglect and/or abuse or neglect that was perpetrated upon the resident as a child.

If a resident discloses child physical or sexual abuse during a therapy session, Chrysalis House staff MUST, by law, report it to the authorities.

The decision whether to cooperate with an investigation by Child Protective Services or the police remains with the resident. Should the resident decide not to cooperate with such investigations, Chrysalis House staff honors that decision, and there will not be any consequences from Chrysalis House toward client.

Sexual Harassment

Chrysalis House has a ZERO tolerance policy regarding sexual harassment. Any incident involving sexual harassment will be investigated.

The following are behaviors which could be viewed as sexual harassment when they are unwelcome:

VERBAL

- Whistling or making cat calls at someone
- Making sexual comments about a person's clothing or body

- Telling sexual jokes or stories
- Asking personal questions about sexual life, fantasies, preferences or history
- Repeatedly "asking out" a person who is not interested
- Turning work discussions to sexual topics
- Referring to an adult woman or man as a "hunk", "doll", "babe", "honey" etc.
Telling lies or spreading rumors about a person's sex life

- Displaying sexually suggestive visuals
- Making facial expressions such as winking, throwing kisses, or licking

No one shall retaliate against a resident if she files a written grievance, assists or participates in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing regarding the charge of harassment/ discrimination of an individual or because she has opposed language or conduct that violates this policy.

Residents cannot engage in romantic relationships or sexual activity with other residents (or staff) while in the program.

Chrysalis House Cardinal Rules

CHRYSALIS HOUSE IS:

A DRUG & ALCOHOL FREE ENVIRONMENT. Absolutely no drugs or alcohol on the premises

A SAFE ENVIRONMENT FOR ALL OF OUR CLIENTS AND STAFF

No physical violence or threats will be tolerated.

A SAFE ENVIRONMENT FOR ALL OF OUR CHILDREN Keep all items that could be potentially harmful out of reach of the children. No physical discipline (corporal punishment) is allowed.

OUR HOME.

No stealing, fraud, prostitution or damaging of property will be tolerated.

1. Keep the environment free of drugs and alcohol at all times. This is your home for the duration of the time you are here. Respect it as such. Keeping secrets regarding the use or possession of drugs or alcohol by another resident is prohibited.
2. In order for this drug-free environment to be monitored, you will be required to submit to random urinalysis. Whenever you are asked for a specimen, you will have up to one hour to comply with that request. Refusal to submit to random urinalysis will be considered a behavioral positive and may be grounds for discharge.
3. Treat others as you would have them treat you. No physical violence or threats of violence. While we recognize that some people take a longer time to change old behaviors than others, bullies or perpetrators will not be allowed to remain in this environment. No one needs to live in fear here. "Snitches get stitches" is street thinking. We value honesty in all interactions with and among clients and staff.
4. We are all committed to the safety of the children of Chrysalis House. Always be mindful of their safety and wellbeing.
 - Keep dangerous items out of the reach of children. This includes lighters, matches, medications, kitchen utensils, etc.
 - Hitting, shaking, yelling, using abusive language, threatening and physical methods of discipline (eg. slapping, spanking, etc.) are strictly prohibited.
 - Placing infants to sleep on their stomach or in bed with you is prohibited since this has been associated with infant death or infant injury.
 - Avoid profanity, especially around children.
 - Remember that "it takes a village to raise a child". We are all responsible for safeguarding our children.
5. Each resident is responsible for changing old behaviors. Stealing, fraud, prostitution, the willful damage of property, or other criminal behaviors of any kind will not be tolerated.
6. Trust takes time to develop. To assist in the development of trust with one another, you are asked to refrain from judging others or discussing other's issues. All residents will be required to sign a promise to maintain confidentiality. Maintaining confidentiality keeps this environment safe.

7. Learn to love yourself. In order to do that you need to learn how to get to know the real you, without medicating your feelings. During this precious time here, relationships can be a distraction. This is your time for you, and other clients deserve the same opportunity. Sexual activity on the premises or sexual behavior with another client or visitors is strictly prohibited. Disregarding this rule may be grounds for immediate discharge.
8. Avoid gossip and rumors. Gossip is talking about someone else. Rumors are stories that are circulated about someone else. Check your motives. Before saying something about another resident, ask yourself the following:
 - Is it kind?
 - Is it true?
 - Is it necessary?
 - What are you avoiding by engaging in gossip?
9. If you have a problem with another client, deal with it directly. Go to that person, or if you have trouble doing that, go to your Big Sister, your therapist/counselor or other staff member. Do not put others in the middle. Re-creating dysfunctional family patterns in this environment is not useful to your recovery. Act but don't re-act. If you're not part of the problem and you're not part of the solution, then you should not be part of it.
10. You are responsible for your own recovery. Attend all sessions with your counselor or therapist and be on time for your groups. Make treatment time count. You are here to work on self-improvement. Be accountable for your own behavior and care enough about each other to point out when someone else is doing something to hurt their own or your recovery. No one recovers alone. Honesty, open-mindedness and willingness require that you be willing to hear the things that others have to say to you as well.
11. Passes are a privilege that give you an opportunity to establish trust. It is important that you return from them on time. Be where you say you are going to be, and be only with those people that have been approved.

Disregarding any of these rules may be grounds for discharge.

Against Medical Advice Protocol

Chrysalis House will not provide clients who choose to leave Against Medical Advice (AMA) with any assistance other than use of a phone (to coordinate pick up, entry into another program etc.) and a resource list. Clients will be given their personal items (that have been secured at admission) and medications right before exiting the building. Control medication prescribed by program staff, will be given in a limited quantity (to be determined by the prescriber). Typically a minimum of three (3) days will be given to the client upon exit.

Drug and Alcohol Policy

It is the policy of Chrysalis House, Inc. to advise all clients at the time of intake that it is strictly prohibited for clients to come to any group or individual appointment under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol.

The following is our protocol:

1. Any client who appears to be under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol is subject to be drug tested by staff.
2. A client under suspicion will be confronted by staff.
3. If the client's tests yield a positive result, appropriate actions will be taken upon consultation with the clinical team.
4. If the client is required to be tested due to suspicion by a counselor or staff member and refuses, staff will consider that a positive result.

Universal Infection Control

Universal Precautions are guidelines issued for the care of patients in hospitals but are common sense for everyone and should be used to prevent disease transmission in all walks of life. Anyone attending a treatment center or detoxification unit should be trained to use standard precautions. When standard precautions are used in all aspects of daily life, they help prevent the spread of infections. Many persons can harbor infectious diseases and be unaware.

This approach carries a blanket assumption that anyone – rich or poor, fat or thin, young or old – may be infected with an infectious disease.

The #1 disease preventing activity you can do is to wash your hands thoroughly. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that hand washing should be done:

- Before, during, and after food preparation
- Before eating
- Before and after looking after someone who is ill
- Before and after treating a cut or a wound
- After using the washroom
- After coughing, sneezing or blowing one's nose
- After petting, playing with or touching an animal
- After handling pet food or treats
- After touching garbage
- If soap and water is not available, an alcohol-based hand sanitizer may be used to clean the hands

Make sure you keep all cuts and abrasions covered with a waterproof bandage. Be careful with badly chapped skin; it can crack and allow fluids to enter and exit.

- Do NOT share razors, towels, tooth brushes, eating utensils or drinking glasses with anyone. Do not share make-up or lip glosses. Do not share nail clippers or files.
- Protect yourself from sharp injuries
- Never, under any circumstance, touch any bodily fluids. If an accident occurs with yourself or another client, call on a staff member for assistance.

HIV Protection and Services

You will receive the following services regarding the education and prevention of HIV:

1. Education, risk assessment and screening for both client high risk behavior and symptoms of communicable diseases as well as actions to be taken on behalf of clients identified as high-risk and clients known to have an infectious disease.
2. HIV and TB testing and HIV pre-test and post-test counseling to high risk clients, provided directly or through referral to other healthcare providers which can offer the services.
3. Reporting of communicable diseases to the Department of Health in accordance with Code of Maryland Regulations (COMAR) 10.06.01.03 C.

Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV) Prevention

RSV is a respiratory infection that is highly contagious and can travel great distances. People infected with RSV are usually contagious for 3 to 8 days. Isolation is the key, and especially important for high-risk babies (children under 1 year of age, especially preemies), and people with compromised immune systems.

RSV Prevention--There are some steps you can take to try to avoid and prevent RSV:

- Wash your hands often, especially after contact with anyone who has cold symptoms.
- Clean and disinfect hard surfaces. RSV can survive for many hours on hard surfaces such as tables, door knobs and crib rails. It typically lives on soft surfaces such as tissues and hands for shorter amounts of time.
- Change clothes after holding/ feeding a sick infant or wear a smock. (This will help reduce transfer of RSV from soft surfaces).
- Only let people touch your baby after they wash their hands.
- Wear a mask if you are sick OR if you want to prevent getting sick.
- Avoid kissing any of the babies if you have cold symptoms.
- Keep your baby away from crowds.
- Don't let anyone smoke around your baby.
- Isolation is the key. If possible, keep your baby away from anyone, including siblings and other children, who has cold symptoms.
- If your baby is very congested, bulb suction right before feeding so they can suck.

RSV Care

- Most RSV infections go away on their own in one or two weeks.

- Fever and pain can be managed with over-the-counter fever reducers and pain relievers, such as acetaminophen or ibuprofen, with a healthcare provider’s approval.
- It is important for people with RSV infection—especially babies—to drink enough fluids to prevent dehydration (loss of body fluids).
- Healthy infants and adults infected with RSV do not usually need to be hospitalized.
- But some people with RSV infection, especially infants younger than 6 months of age and older adults, may need to be hospitalized if they are having trouble breathing or are dehydrated. In most of these cases, hospitalization only lasts a few days.
- Visits to a healthcare provider for an RSV infection are very common. During such visits, the healthcare provider will evaluate how severe the person’s RSV infection is to determine if the patient should be hospitalized. There is no specific treatment for RSV infection.

Prevention is the best way to help more people keep healthy.

Safe Sleep for Your Baby

Each year, 1000s of infants die unexpectedly in the US, and ¼ of those deaths are sleep-related. In 2016, Anne Arundel County had a 400% increase in the number of infant deaths most likely due to accidental suffocation from unsafe sleep practices.

Here’s how to keep your baby—or the babies of those you love--safe.

Share your room, but never your bed.

Practice Safe Sleep for your baby day, night and every time they sleep.

Learn and remember the ABC’s of Safe Sleep.

ALONE

--Your baby should sleep alone, not in your bed or chair or with any other people. Keep the crib empty. Do not put stuffed animals, pillows or blankets in the crib with your baby.

On their BACKS

—Your baby should be put to sleep on their back. Back sleeping is less risky for choking because fluids pool in the back of the throat away from the windpipe.

In a safe CRIB

—Your baby should sleep on a firm mattress that fits tightly into the crib frame. A 12 ounce can should NOT fit between the rails. Do not use crib bumpers. The sale of crib bumpers is banned in Maryland.

Medical Department

Our program offers comprehensive medical care. Our doctors and nurses are highly experienced and work as a team to ensure that you receive the best level of care. We analyze each client individually and develop a program that is unique to that person. We make all attempts to promote a natural and holistic resolution to any concern that you may have. When pharmacotherapies are deemed necessary, our staff takes special care to minimize any side effects by balancing the medication with appropriate nutraceutical remedies.

While you will have scheduled appointments throughout your stay with us, you have the option to request a consult as needed. Medical staff is at our clinical office five days per week.

Medical Referrals

Chrysalis House has an extensive list of highly trained medical professionals that we utilize when additional medical care is determined to be necessary. We take care of all of the details including scheduling the appointment, verifying insurance benefits, and arranging transportation to and from the scheduled appointment.

Medications Initial Assessment

All prescription medications will be assessed by our medical staff upon your arrival to ensure that you are receiving the appropriate dosages. During your initial meeting with our team you may be prescribed different medications, dosages may be altered, and frequency of administration adjusted in order to best care for you.

Daily Medication Process

All prescription medications that are ordered for you are given by a medical tech.

Newly Prescribed Medication

At times clients will arrive from another facility with written prescriptions. Once our medical staff has assessed the medications, they will be filled by a local pharmacy and staff will pick up the medication when they are ready. If our prescriber orders a new medication for you, it is sent to our private pharmacy and delivered directly to the program.

Medication Refills

If you are running low on any medication, please alert your primary therapist, counselor or med tech to this situation and they will notify the prescriber of the need for a refill. Your new prescription will then be delivered and once again stored in medication room. We ask that you allow two business days for us to refill your order.

Discharge Prescriptions

Our medical team will meet with you a few days before your discharge date to assess your prescription and medical status. If you need any medications or if you are not feeling well on your current regimen, please let the team know and they will address the issues. You will be given written copies of your prescriptions that you can fill at your own pharmacy upon discharge. Clients are given prescriptions for 30 days of their medications at discharge.

Prescription Assistance and Education

At times prescription medication can be quite costly. With this in mind, our facility strives to educate our clients on the most cost effective way to obtain their medications once discharged from our care. If you are experiencing difficulty paying for your medications or are concerned about the ability to pay for them once you discharge, simply let one of our medical team members know and they will see about access assistance through program funds.

If you have questions about a particular medication that you have been prescribed, our medical staff is here to assist you in understanding all aspects of your particular prescription. We want to ensure that you are comfortable with the medical process while you are in our care and we are here to help.

Big Sister

The purpose of the Big Sister is to help new residents to become oriented to Chrysalis House, the setting, routines and policies. Big Sisters are assigned on a case by case basis, based on client need, not all clients are assigned a Big Sister. The Big Sister is particularly important during a new resident's first month.

Completions/Graduations:

Clients who meet the criteria for successful completion of the program will be celebrated with a graduation ceremony during which they may invite members of their support system including their sponsor, family and friends.

Childcare Center:

Please see Childcare Center Handbook for specific guidelines regarding children in residence especially for bonding bed time and television policy.

All children two weeks of age and older are expected to be in the daycare on weekdays between 8:00am – 12:00pm and 1:00pm - 4:00pm (clinical hours) in order for mothers to attend their groups and sessions. The only exception to this is with a written note from the clinical staff or nurse or if you are bonding time.

You will be assigned a case manager that will assist you from admission to discharge.

Treatment at Chrysalis House

Meetings

Self-help recovery meetings are considered to be the foundation of your outside recovery. We suggest that you attend at least 90 meetings (depending on the program's ability to transport you) in the first 90 days of your stay. Please speak with your Addiction Counselor if you have further questions about why this is important for your treatment success.

Networking isn't just for the purpose of obtaining a ride. It's to develop relationships with women in recovery. Clients can only go to meetings with their sponsor or network person when they are on Level 2 or above and when the counselor or therapist has approved.

Celebrating Your Success

Graduation Ceremony

When you complete the residential program and have been given a discharge date, your achievements and growth will be celebrated with a formal Graduation Ceremony. This ceremony will include all clients, staff of Chrysalis House and your invited guests (family or friends). This ceremony typically takes place at lunch time, where one staff person of your choosing will speak on your behalf and where lunch will be served after.

Behavioral Expectations

One of our goals at Chrysalis House is to promote positive and social growth. Progress toward this goal takes place within the framework of discipline. Discipline is a process designed to help residents develop respect for themselves and others. A successful discipline process occurs only in a nurturing and supportive environment.

To promote positive social and emotional growth, the discipline process must be fair and consistent. It should include clear and appropriate expectations for all residents. For that reason, Chrysalis House uses this manual and a list of infractions and consequences, which is listed in the next section, to communicate expectations to residents.

If there is a pattern of noncompliance the client may be placed on Therapeutic Behavioral Agreement/Contract, compliance with the agreement will be reviewed weekly by the clinical team. Your counselor or therapist will notify you when the agreement has been met and you can either return to your previous level or apply for Level 2. All clients on a Behavioral Agreement are automatically on Level 1 for the duration of the agreement. If the noncompliance has been repeated, excessive and/or serious, you can be placed on a Final Therapeutic Agreement, meaning that further noncompliance can result in discharge from the program.

The Women We Serve

Within the population of Chrysalis House clients, there are special populations with specific needs (see the table below). While a vast majority of our clients fall within at least one of these categories, we work to identify, assess and address the needs of all of the women we serve. Should we be unable to accommodate them, they will receive referrals for appropriate services to meet their needs.

Priority Populations:	How their specific needs are addressed:
Aging, older women or women with disabilities	Use and follow standards for reasonable accommodation. Appropriate staff to manage issues of aging and older adults.

Women with limited English proficiency, educational or literacy issues	Ensure materials used are explained at a level that clients can understand and special training for staff treating developmentally challenged clients.
Women with HIV/AIDS	Use of universal precautions is standard for all clients. Staff will make referrals to appropriate medical provider and support agencies.
IV drug users	Appropriate medical referrals are made immediately, as needed.
Women who have witnessed or experienced trauma, including sexual trauma and violence	Special attention is paid to the unique needs of this group with regard to treatment planning, service delivery, assignment of therapists, and behavioral intervention techniques such as de-escalation.
Women experiencing Homelessness	Placed at the top of the priority list. Appropriate staff to manage issues of housing and work referrals. Permanent housing is the goal for all residents, although there may not be an adequate supply of subsidized or affordable housing resources in the community to support this.
Women involved with the Criminal Justice System	Staff can provide progress updates to the Court and/or Parole and Probation insofar as the client consents to share information; as well as focus on reintegration with family members and social supports, case management and relapse prevention strategies, and access to Maryland Legal Aide for advice and expungement opportunities.

Additional Information

Domestic Violence

Domestic violence begins long before the first slap ever comes. Domestic violence is often about confusion, fright and hoping for change—caring about someone you fear. Domestic violence is a pattern of verbal, physical and/or sexual abuse between intimate partners as a way to obtain power and control.

If you have not been hit or injured, you may not think your problems have anything to do with domestic violence. However, physical violence is only part of the problem. Threats, intimidation, isolation, neglect and emotional abuse are all part of it too.

Domestic violence is prevalent and can happen to anyone.

Pregnant and recently pregnant women in Maryland are more likely to be victims of homicide than to die of any other cause.

- One in four women will experience serious physical violence by an intimate partner.
- More than half of men who abuse their partners also abuse their children.

Characteristics of an Abuse Relationship

Does your partner:

- Criticize you constantly?
- Monitor activities and phone calls?
- Control the money?
- Have sudden mood changes?
- Force you to use drugs or alcohol/sabotage recovery efforts.
- Keep you away from friends and family?
- Accuse you of having affairs?
- Destroy things you care about like photos or clothes.
- Hit you and later deny it or blame you?
- Threaten to kill you him/her, loved ones or pets
- Take away medicines /birth control

- Give you gifts or apologize after abuse occurs and promise that it will never happen again?
- Destroy your property or threaten to kill your pets?
- Intimidate you with guns, knives or other weapons?
- Attempt to force you to drop criminal charges?
- Threaten to commit suicide, or threaten to kill you?

Abuse usually gets worse over time. If you have concerns about your relationship, please discuss these with your counselor here at Chrysalis House. You can also call the following resources for help and more information:

Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders

Drinking alcohol during pregnancy is a leading known cause of birth defects in the United States. Alcohol can harm a fetus throughout pregnancy. This includes the first few weeks before you know you are pregnant and during the last weeks of pregnancy when the fetal brain is maturing. Even moderate alcohol use during pregnancy can cause lifelong problems with a child's learning and behavior. Any amount is risky for women who are pregnant or trying to become pregnant. All types of alcohol are harmful, including beer and wine.

Fetal alcohol spectrum disorders (FASDs) are health problems that can occur in a person whose mother drank alcohol during pregnancy.

The most severe FASD is fetal alcohol syndrome (FAS). FAS may cause:

- problems with brain development
- lower-than-average height and weight
- smaller-than-normal head size □ abnormal facial features

For every child born with FAS, many more are born with other FASDs. These children may have problems with coordination, behavior, attention, learning, and understanding consequences without any of the physical signs of FAS.

How can I prevent birth defects related to alcohol use?

Birth defects related to alcohol are 100% preventable by not drinking during pregnancy.

Prevention involves these three steps:

1. If you do not want to get pregnant and you drink alcohol, use effective birth control.
2. If you are planning to become pregnant, do not drink.

3. If you are pregnant and have been drinking, stop. This will reduce the risk of harm to your baby.

Every child is unique, but FASD presents some challenges that many other kids may not have. Children with an FASD may behave differently, including:

- Being very unpredictable
- Being moody, making forming a close relationship hard
- Having trouble functioning in a typical environment
- Having memory lapses
- Showing behavior problems.

Children with an FASD may have trouble understanding long sentences with many parts. They also may have difficulty following multiple directions. Use short words and sentences and break things into steps. For example, if you want your child with an FASD to come downstairs for dinner, go upstairs and say that it's dinnertime. Then lead the child to the table.

Suggest positive reinforcement. Tasks that we take for granted can be difficult for someone with an FASD. Even a simple "thank you" can mean a lot. Praise your child with an FASD if he or she gets something right or does something well.
